

How it works: Can I change my draft date?

Please keep in mind that clients must commit to making a consistent monthly payment in order to ensure the success of our program. However, if you do need to change the date your payments are being made, we can change them for you, as long as you give us at least 5 business days notice. If you are experiencing a hardship and need to skip a monthly payment altogether, we will also try to accommodate you - but please keep in mind that this will invalidate our money-back guarantee. We need at least 5 business days advance notice for these changes as well.
